

In the interest of protecting individual privacy rights and prevent government intrusion into the interaction of law abiding individuals, but allowing the government to properly be able to pursue those suspected of criminal activity, it should be legal for officials to "tap" into electronic communications, to include e-mail and Voice Over IP interactions, but only with a properly obtained search warrant SPECIFYING THE MAC ADDRESS OF THE COMPUTER IT IS MEANT TO COVER